

For Immediate Release

Contact: Press@Consumers4QualityCare.org

Consumers for Quality Care Release Michigan Statewide Poll on Health Care Quality, Access and Affordability

Poll shows more than a quarter of all Michigan voters have unpaid or overdue medical bills

MICHIGAN. (August 23, 2021) –A new survey from ALG Research and Michigan Researchers Associates, Inc. (EPIC • MRA) on behalf of Consumers for Quality Care (CQC) reveals that voters see affordability and access to quality care as major issues in the state’s health care system and they are seeking relief from rising out-of-pocket costs. Read more about the survey here.

“This research confirms what many Michiganders have been feeling: the out-of-pocket costs for quality health care are too high,” said the Hon. Donna Christensen, a founding board member of CQC and the first female physician elected to Congress. “With about 18% of Americans with medical debt in collections, it is no wonder why consumers are stressed about the cost of going to the hospital or seeing a doctor. Out-of-pocket costs shouldn’t be so high and unpredictable that they discourage people from seeking care, and insurance should act like insurance and be there for patients when they need it.”

The primary issue that Michiganders have with their health care is it is too expensive - Majorities are concerned about being able to afford high deductibles (74% concerned), junk insurance plans that give little coverage (90%), and being able to afford their monthly premium (58%). Across the board, cost has become a top-of-mind issue for Michigan voters:

1. Three-in-four voters (77%) agree that the amount they pay for health care seems to be going up every year.
2. A majority (56%) agree that at some point they have struggled to pay a medical bill even while they had health insurance.
3. More than a quarter (27%) actively have unpaid or overdue medical bills that they are having difficulty paying off. Among voters who are already struggling financially, this number climbs to 55%.

“Michigan voters think the existing health care system is good, but too expensive, with costs rising every year,” said Bernie Porn, President of EPIC-MRA. “Our poll showed voters want health care improved and they favor private health insurance over a government-run system.”

Though cost continues to be a priority that Michigan residents want elected officials to address (49% cite cost as the thing they want their leaders to work on most), coming out of the pandemic, across-the-board, voters are seeking targeted, careful fixes to the health care system. Most agree we should be cautious making changes as we come out of the COVID-19 pandemic (68% agree), and they are looking to Congress for targeted fixes that build on the current system (59%) rather than fundamentally transforming it (25%):

1. Nearly all (90%) of Michiganders want policy changes to ensure that insurance deductibles are low enough that they don't get in the way of getting quality care.
2. Separately, 85% agree that there need to be changes made to prevent insurance companies from selling plans that cover so little that it isn't affordable to get care.

Coming out of the pandemic, a majority of voters (65%) are concerned that COVID-19 survivors who develop serious health problems may have to pay a greater share of their health care costs or may not be covered at all because they contracted COVID. That number climbs to 69% in the nearly 1-in-4 Michigan households where someone contracted COVID-19.

The ALG/ EPIC • MRA poll was conducted July 15-19, 2021. The online survey sampled 600 registered voters in Michigan. Overall results were weighted to reflect the composition of registered voters in the state.

ABOUT CONSUMERS FOR QUALITY CARE (CQC)

Consumers for Quality Care (CQC) is a coalition of advocates and former policymakers working to provide a voice for patients in the health care debate as they demand better care. CQC is led by a board of directors that includes the Honorable Donna Christensen, physician and former Member of Congress; Jim Manley, former senior advisor to Senators Edward Kennedy and Harry Reid; and Jason Resendez, community advocate, and health care strategist.

To learn more about Consumers for Quality Care and the issues consumers are experiencing, visit <http://www.consumers4qualitycare.org/>.

###